GERMAN PINSCHER BREED

GERMAN PINSCHER

Height: 17" to 20" measured from the top of the withers (top of the shoulder blade). Dogs and Bitches may be the same heights.

Occasionally German Pinschers may be over 20" (around 21") and as short as 16". It is HIGHLY unlikely you will see GP's less than 16" or more than 21".

Weight varies from 30# to 44#. Again, highly unlikely you will see below or above these variables. GP's are a compact, short-bodied dog.

German Pinschers may have docked tails and cropped ears, OR, may have natural ears and (long) tails.

COLOR: German Pinschers can be black & tan, shades of red, fawn and rarely blue & tan.

MINATURE PINSCHER

Height: 11" to 11½" at the withers (top of the shoulder blade).

11½" tall

14" tall

Pet min-pins may be as tall as 15".

Min-pin colors include black & tan, red, blue & tan, chocolate & tan.

MIN-PIN HEAD: The Min-Pin has a "round" back skull, while the German Pinscher is flatter in the back skull. Tails are docked ½ to 1 inch.

MANCHESTER TERRIER

Weight: over 12 lbs. Not to exceed 22 lbs.

APPEARANCE: nearly square, sleek, sturdy dog. Major difference, Manchesters always black & tan, tail is ALWAYS natural, no longer than hock joint NOT carried over back. Ears: erect button, small and thin. If cropped – to a point long and carried erect.

DOBERMAN PINSCHER

The Doberman Pinscher is the largest of the Pinscher breeds. This dog "STARTS" at 26" to 28+", bitches smaller at 24" to 26".

This breed, when adult is easily recognized – but puppies may be mis-identified as German Pinschers. Difference is color: Doberman carries tan markings in all 4 colors. TAILS are usually docked, if ears are not cropped and erect, they fold down (hound type ears).

Only when Doberman puppies are between 3 and 5 months of age will they look like they could be a German Pinscher. A 5 month old Doberman puppy will have larger boning than an adult German Pinscher.
